On February 21 the Men's Fellowship Club of Fairview Chrstian Church of Lynchburg was presented with a plaque certifying that they have been accepted into the American Tree Farm System. The presentation was made at the tree farm located in the southern part of Appomattox County. Warren Taylor, of the Virginia Division of Forestry, made the presentation. Sixteen members of the fellowship were present including: Mr. Willie Davis, pastor; F. S. Falls, president of the Fellowship; I. W. Cox, vice-president; V. The American Tree Farm System is sponsored in Virginia by Virginia Forest, Inc. and receives the support of the Division of Forestry and the timber industries. The tree farm program was established to give public recognition to woodland owners who are doing an outstanding job of managing their forest land. At the present time there are 876 certified tree farms in Virginia covering 1,588,953 acres.

The Men's Fellowship Club is one of less than five such groups in Virignia to become tree farmers. A part of the conservation work carried out on their property includes the thinning of five acres of loblolly pine for timber stand improvement. The planting of 14 acres of abandon field in loblolly pine, and the reforestation of 10 acres of low quality timberland. The farm is deeply involved in the concept of multipal use. In addition to timber production the farm is also used during the summer as a camp for children, often having over 100 children present each day.
